About UAACCE

The mission of the Utah Association for Adult, Community, and Continuing Education as the primary advocate for lifelong learning in Utah is to meet the diverse needs of all Utahns by providing and supporting quality educational opportunities. UAACCE recognizes that learning is a lifelong endeavor that takes place in many settings and that the changing workplace requires that we constantly update our skills.

Keynote Speaker: Richard Cooper

Dr. Richard Cooper is the Director of Disabilities at Harcum College, Bynn Mawr, Pennsylvania. He is also the Founder and Director of the Center for Alternative Learning and Learning Disabilities. Both of those organizations are dedicated to providing educational and social support to children and adults with learning disabilities, problems and differences.

Dr. Cooper is an internationally recognized lecturer and expert on alternative instructional techniques and tools for reading, writing math and study skills. He has authored a number of books and articles describing the use of these techniques and tools. He speaks nationally and internationally about a wide range of learning problems and instructional techniques to help both children and adults improve their skills. He maintains a private practice through which he provides assessment, counseling and tutoring of children and adults.

Dr. Cooper was also a member of the Observer Delegation from the United States to the 1997 UNESCO Conference on Adult Education in Hamburg Germany. He is a founding member and current co president of the National Association for Adults with Special Learning Needs. Most recently, he co-authored a book titled Test Anxiety, A Student Manual and Teacher's Guide (2009).
